About Our News Reports

by Jennifer A. Sampson

Our news report provides the public of Tranquility with the most trust-worthy and accurate information. Our reports consist of a variety of editorials, news reports, and the occasional feature.

Tranquility's Weekly Report is the most read newspaper in all of Tranquility, and we take pride in that. We ensure that all of our papers consist of nothing but the truth, and that our readers get the most essential information.

We greatly value all of our readers, and hope you find this week's article very enlightening.

Dan Bilzerian, Pronounced Dead

By Ben Moglia

Dan Bilzerian, originator and founder of the Pill Movement of 2021, was found dead in his home on Saturday. The cause of death has not been revealed by authorities, but his relatives suspect he overdosed.

"I'm sad to say I saw it coming," said Dan's Mother, Tabitha, on a phone call, "We haven't seen him ever since the release of M15."

The medication Tabitha is referring to is the highly controversial drug, M15, which has been linked to numerous deaths since its release due to undefined dosages.

According to John Barry, a Biology professor at Cambridge University, "M15 was designed by the government to be a stronger alternative for depression patients who have grown immune to antidepressants. The problem with this drug is it's synthesized from the Yromem leaf, found in the Amazon Jungle. The molecular compounds that Yromem contains react differently in everyone's body, so there is no universal dosage."

The other hazardous side effect that makes Yromem a potentially fatal substance is extreme memory loss. If your dose is inaccurate, you can possibly forget you ever took the medication. This leads patients into a deadly cycle of consuming more and more pills until their brains succumb to the substance.

The late Dan Bilzerian started the Pill Movement in 2021 when he partnered with CVS to start The Dispensary and build the utopian society he always believed in as a kid. Having had depression as a child, Dan had difficulties in growing up, fighting mental battles almost every day against himself. When he became famous, he sought to use his 30 million follower social media presence to begin creating his dream world. A world without mental illness.

A year after his first distribution to his followers, Dan's empire had grown considerably. Social Media made pill popping the new Niche. Everyone became joyous and happy. Dan began to make friends in political circles in hopes of expanding his empire. By the end of the second year, Congress was working to pass a Bill that would require the consumption of Dan's medications as a Federal law.

As the years went on, Dan's dream began to evolve from mental diseases to all world suffering. Pills were engineered for hunger, thirst, muscle gain, weight loss, entertainment, hygiene, and almost anything you could possibly think of. Dan's dream had come true. The world was becoming a perfect place.

When the news of Dan's death became public, unrest and panic began to arise. "The reassuring voice we've been hearing for years telling us we were headed in the right direction is now dead by the very thing he created. How can we be sure these things are even safe?" Said an anonymous citizen.

The call for the government to create more regulations and do more research on their drugs before they are released to the public has only strengthened since Dan's death. "They won't do it, they're too cheap," said Holly Bakersfield, resident of Tranquility and mother of three, "they need as much profit as they can get to pay for all the military equipment, nukes, and factories they're building."

Another angered and worried citizen, who wanted to remain anonymous, had this to say, "If these deaths keep happening with no repercussions from the government, another underground movement is going to form and I don't think they will end like the last two."

The previous underground movements, or revolts, this citizen is referring to are The Sober and The Vaxxers, who were quickly silenced by the government and disappeared. When word spread of another possible underground group forming, excitement and hope filled the minds of the people of tranquility.

"You bet your bottom I'd join!" Said fearless, Joe Hilly, owner of an ammunition store in Tranquility, "I love these pills but I hate how secretive the government is about them!"

We requested an interview with a government representative on the death of Dan Bilzerian and were given a statement that said, "Here at Tranquility our goal is to eliminate the suffering of the world. Although we are saddened to hear of the terrible accident that claimed the life of our friend, Dan Bilzerian, we do know our A.I. take every safety precaution necessary to distribute our medications."

This response exposed another side of the story others seem to not talk about. For all we know, this could have been a terrible accident. Although medication has helped further our society in unimaginable ways, the pills have still not been perfected.

The founder's death is extremely saddening, but one thing is certain. Dan wanted us to go stronger, furthering our new civilization with the medications he created to end the world's suffering.

Nationwide Life Expectancy Decrease Linked to Vitamins

by Michael Crisera

Since the integration of The Dispensary into the Tranquility federal government in 2020, a decrease in average life expectancy has been demonstrated across the country.

A file released last month by the National Institute of Health (NIH) first brought this issue into public light. This file included a graph that showed a steep downward trend in average life expectancy over the past 22 years. The data in this graph shows that the average age of death for Tranquility citizens has decreased from roughly 80 years to a shocking 35 years of age since the year 2020.

In the file, the NIH linked this decline to the Dispensary-issued Vitamins, stating that a molecule called “Batrachotoxin” was found in every tested Vitamin variant in extremely small quantities. According to the file, this molecule paralyzes enzymes that regulate blood flow in our bodies, slowing the heart rate. “Because the dosage of Batrachotoxin per Vitamin is so small, the effects do not become lethal until one consumes over 10,000 Vitamins worth.” (NIH). The report suggested that the public should do the unthinkable and seek natural alternatives to Vitamins to obtain daily nutrients. The publicity of these discoveries began a wave of fear and anger amongst citizens, beginning in Deficient-rich communities.

Adding to this wave, Dan Bilzerian’s untimely death was revealed to be Vitamin-related last week. It was stated that his official cause of death was categorized as an “overdose” of an unspecified Vitamin. Some sources speculate that Bilzerian was experimenting with combinations of Vitamins, while others believe that The Dispensary had given him samples of unreleased Vitamins with the intention of killing him.

After these major information releases, the general feelings of distrust in The Dispensary have grown beyond the slums and Deficient-rich areas of Tranquility. This past week, middle as well as some upper class citizens began to show signs of anger and worry for the first time in over two decades of compliance. Massive swarms of citizens and Deficients have taken to the streets of Tranquility together to express their emotions through riots and public protests. Bilzerian’s Dispensary-conducted funeral procession was even interrupted by angry mobs of citizens holding signs accusing The Dispensary of killing Bilzerian as well as chanting “Long Live Dan”.

In an attempt to calm the citizens of Tranquility and to regain their trust, The Dispensary issued a public statement yesterday in which President Sanders notably explained: “It is true, that our lives have become shorter since the start of the century. However, this is by natural doing and not our Vitamins are certainly not involved. Death is and always was inevitable. We should be celebrating our shorter lives because we no longer have to suffer in elderly years as our ancestors did. Why should we drag our deaths out, try to avoid them, and unnecessarily live in misery for decades past our prime for no apparent reason?”

Our president presented a brilliant new perspective on the discoveries to the public during his address. He stated that the decrease in life length should be seen as a positive, almost like a blessing from some external divine force. The suffering caused by natural deterioration in the late years of human life has been completely eliminated. He stated that the people of Tranquility are slowly evolving into a “super race” in which people are disposed of when their peak athletic and health performances are past, rather unnecessarily using up natural resources and living in the states of suffering.

After addressing this issue, he went on to deny the rumors about toxic molecules found in the Vitamins. “The Dispensary’s Vitamins have always been produced using healthy, natural ingredients. The purpose of creating Vitamins was to help citizens to solve all their ailments and struggles, not to harm them, so why would we add a toxic chemical into our Vitamins?” The president stated that the rumors about Batrachotoxin were simply untrue and illogical, and that speaking of the NIH file or spreading other rumors about The Dispensary were both now considered federal offences.

Shortly after the public address, the NIH was officially closed by The Dispensary. The head scientists that were credited with releasing the Batrachotoxin experiment file were rightfully arrested for charges of slander and defamation of President Sanders and The Dispensary.

About the new A-324 Vitamin

By: Bryce Li

The government has finally released the Vitamin of the year called Vitamin A-324. It's a magnificent new Vitamin that's been the talk of Tranquility. This is the 24th Vitamin that the dispensary has released in the year 2042 alone. Although the Vitamin has only been out for a few days, its sales have gone through the roof. The production of this vitamin is projected to increase by 300% in the next year. According to one of the interviews that we did with a member of The Dispensary, they are very happy to be introducing another Vitamin that will change the lives of many. This Vitamin is at the forefront of scientific advancements and will revolutionize the way that we think. According to the member of The Dispensary, this Vitamin will be able to be so widely distributed that even the deficient will be given of this pill. In fact, The Dispensary stated that each citizen will be given one free bottle of A-324 for the next two days.

We don't yet know what the effects of Vitamin A-324 are. As one customer stated, "I don't know what this thing does, but it's great! I just can't get enough of it." Users claim that they have experienced symptoms ranging from happiness to sleep to hallucinations. "I couldn't stop smiling after I took the new Vitamin, but I am always smiling," said one happy customer. Although the effects of the Vitamin are unknown, The Dispensary stated that "This Vitamin will revolutionize our society by extending the lifetime of all citizens by at least 1 year." This announcement made people eager to get their hands on Vitamin A-324. In fact, one lady stated that, "I got 10 bottles of A-324 in order to live a healthy life." The A-324 Vitamins are being ordered excessively and the Dispensary is pumping them out of the factories just as rapidly. "If you haven't ordered A-324 yet, it should be the next thing that you do because this Vitamin is truly astonishing," said one satisfied customer. This user isn't the only one who feels this way as this Vitamin has a whopping 100% user satisfaction rate and meets consumers demands perfectly. People are waiting next to the dispensers to get their hands on this magical Vitamin.

Vitamin A-324 provides a new innovative therapy when taken in high doses. After taking the vitamins users reported having vivid dreams and feelings of sleepiness. We do not know if this is the effect of Vitamin A-324 or if it is a different Vitamin that is causing the users to experience these symptoms. Most users are not interested in finding out what this Vitamin does. One unconcerned Vitamin taker stated, "I don't really care what it does as long as it makes me feel good." This user is not the only user that feels this way, according to the survey done by the Tranquil Street Journal, 95% of the citizens did not care about the effects of the Vitamins. Other surveys have similar results, suggesting that most people have no care for the effects of the Vitamin. Some of the people stated that they know that the Dispensary is propelling Tranquility towards a better future and they have complete faith in the Dispensary to do so.

The Dispensary built up trust over the years with the citizens as they have proven to be able to distribute Vitamins to everyone who needs them and they have made it so that we do not need to partake in strenuous activities and we can use the pills which is much easier and more convenient. Imagine going out for a walk, it's utterly disgusting. Who would like to exercise and eat and sleep and drink when you just take Vitamins instead? The Dispensary has made our lives so much easier and we are so grateful for the Vitamins that we receive from them.

In addition to this, people are excited for the release of A-325 scheduled for 30 days. The Dispensary has designed this new Vitamin that will be replace A-128 although no one remembers what the A-128 did. People are looking forward to the release of this new Vitamin because if it's anything like A-324, it will be a great hit. In fact, people are already starting to wait near the dispensaries in anticipation of this new Vitamin. With the recent release of the Vitamin A-324 that received outstanding praise from the citizens, and the leak of the new A-325 Vitamin, the year of 2042 is projected to be a great year for Tranquility.

The Anti-Vites; The Beginning of a Rebellion

By Piper Stevens

Last Tuesday, April 9th, 2042, a Dispensary storage facility was set aflame and destroyed. This came after the west wing of the Dispensary headquarters was blown up by a pipe bomb placed inside its lobby. These acts of treachery and treason were committed by the Anti-Vites, people who refuse to believe the clear, positive results of the Vitamin lifestyle.

When Tranquility was first created in 2021, the townsfolk showed extreme disdain for the changes to their society. However, as the Principles of the Dispensary continued to spread, people started to agree with the idealism and understand the benefits of Vitamins. Now, citizens of Tranquility both support and endorse the Vitamin program, and the decrease in crime and overall sense of peace shows how positive the changes have been in the city. Although the new state of peace is advantageous, evil rebels have begun to act against the Dispensary and its supporters. Ever since Tranquility started, these opponents slowly formed an insurgent group. After various attacks started in 2030, a terrorist group named the Anti-Vites claimed responsibility for the strikes.

The Anti-Vites, whose members have remained anonymous throughout all of the attacks, have been rumored to sell their Vitamins that they've earned by working their jobs to buy illegal substances, such as food and water. They have now been trying to proselytize and persuade people to return to consuming food and water. They also learned how to control their mood without taking mood Vitamins, which is making many citizens question their validity. The Dispensary has been searching for the Anti-Vites' headquarters, but have been unsuccessful for 12 years, although rumored they live underneath the streets of Tranquility. Since the attacks, the Dispensary has vowed to find the Anti-Vites and to help these people recover from the mental illness that makes them hate Vitamins. Witnesses have seen people wearing black clothing with bandanas over their mouths, fleeing from the crime scenes. An analyst of the Anti-Vites believes that the black bandanas covering their mouths represent their resistance to taking the Vitamins.

Recently, the Anti-Vites have released a statement in the Tranquil Street Journal detailing their motives behind the attacks against the Dispensary and the Vitamin program. The leader of the Anti-Vites, who refers to himself as Vayne, wrote this statement in defense of public shaming after the various strikes, claiming that "the attacks aren't meant to cause any harm to citizens of Tranquility, but to show our disdain with the Vitamin program. It controls the people of Tranquility and makes them subject to anything the Dispensary desires of them." According to the article, the Anti-Vites are working to overthrow the Dispensary by continuing to attack until they surrender. They are fighting the Dispensary because they believe that the Vitamins are taking away people's ability to live their lives. According to Vayne, the Vitamins are making the citizens complacent in their society, causing it to slowly die. Vayne details how he is creating an army of Anti-Vites to fight against the Dispensary to overthrow their government. He discusses how "more and more people are joining the resistance movement, and in less than six months we will be able to take down the Dispensary." Although Vayne has made many claims throughout his released statement, the validity of his claims are unable to be confirmed by the Dispensary. Therefore, the Anti-Vites' rebellion should not cause worry to any citizens.

The Dispensary has released a counter-statement disproving all of Vayne's and the Anti-Vites' claims. The Dispensary states that "every Vitamin goes towards helping the members of Tranquility. Vitamins don't have the ability to do harm, and only make the city more peaceful." Research by the Science Sector of the Dispensary shows that Vitamins can control hunger, thirst, and mood, but don't affect people as dramatically as the Anti-Vites suggest. In their statement, the Dispensary also describes how they are "using any means necessary to find these slanderous people." The Dispensary wants to prevent the rebellion by conquering all of the Anti-Vites through force, by finding and attacking their base, and capturing the members. After, the Dispensary plans to put the Anti-Vites into Rehabilitation Camp and teach them the importance of Vitamins while curing their mental illness. After the Camp, the former Anti-Vites will be placed back into Tranquility in a government job and take their Vitamins, as any normal citizen would.

The Vitamin Lottery: A Vitamin Fortune

By: Jack Nathan

Abundance is anything but prevalent in Tranquility. Those who work for the Dispensary, entitled Dispensers, do not have an issue consuming Vitamins. However, this is not the case for all those living in Tranquility because some are not able to obtain Vitamins. Over the last 20 years, Vitamins have taken over the role that was previously embodied by food and water. In exchange for service to the Dispensary, citizens are rewarded Vitamins. They are of great value, and the Deficients, the lower class, are unable to earn vital Vitamins because of their lack of work. The Dispensary provides hope to those who lack the proper Vitamins by giving them a chance to enter a lottery in which Vitamins are awarded to the winner.

The Lottery was established in 2039 which is run by the government. Whoever chooses to enter the Lottery is able to do so as long as they can supply three Vitamins, which is the generic entry fee. In exchange for the three Vitamins, one is given a ticket with a combination of letters and numbers. This entails their number and if at the end of the week when the number is decided, that person is supposed to be given the jackpot. The amount of Vitamins that are given out to the winner of the jackpot are the cumulation of all the Vitamins that have been placed into the Lottery by the citizens.

The Deficients' origination came all the way back in 2021 when the Dispensary took power and established Vitamins as the universal consumption material. Immediately once Tranquility was established, social division throughout it became a widely spread issue. The more one works or the higher up they are in the government, the more Vitamins they will receive to keep them sustained for longer.

When Dan Bilzerian partnered with CVS, food and water were still spread throughout the world. Now in 2042, hunger and thirst Vitamins are a staple in all diets, while food is practically extinct. Vitamins can not only solve bodily needs, but they also bring happiness into the life of all those who consume them. Vitamins can cure anything, whether it is being in a bad mood or complying with the rules of the Dispensary. At this point, most of the citizens do not truly know exactly what they are ingesting.

The Lottery gives hope to Deficients who do not earn the full ration of Vitamins. These Vitamins are the only real cure for hunger and thirst as well as the sole source of happiness in Tranquility. The Dispensary has managed to establish conformity amongst the entire population so whether one likes it or not, Vitamins are what everyone desires. Data has shown that replacing all other medications and forms of nutrition with Vitamins has called world peace to prevail. Crime is no longer an issue in Tranquility, for the most part, because with Vitamins, there is no insurgency. Almost everyone is satisfied. This is where the Deficients come in and pose a serious threat to not just themselves, but the rest of the citizens of Tranquility as well. They are not always satisfied and because of the insurgency they endure, they can feel the need to take from others because they have a lack of Vitamins. The Dispensary had the purpose of ending this through the Lottery. This way, instead of focusing on stealing as the way for the Deficients to obtain extra rations of Vitamins, they can hope that the Lottery will be what lifts them out of their struggle. However suspicions have begun to rise with this newly-founded Lottery.

Mike Apsel came forward last week with a protest in which he gathered together a group of Deficient rioters to rebel against the Dispensary's newly instated Lottery. Apsel exclaimed after countless months of buying into the Lottery, that him along with the other Deficients had begun to figure out there was no way to win back their vitamins. The Deficients assumed that the Dispensary was not awarding the vitamins to a winner but rather keeping them for their own personal benefit. They went on to call the Dispensary a hoax which was deceiving the people of Tranquility in finding a false hope in something that does not exist.

The Dispensary responded with a statement stating that they deny these false accusations and that by no means necessary would they ever attempt to scam the people of Tranquility out of receiving happiness. It was simply a matter of the Deficients lacking sanity because they were not taking their vitamins.

An undisclosed Dispenser from the Department of Content came forward to explain that he/she had some unreleased information about the Lottery. He/she said that "The Lottery is not really real. It was created as a way for the government to create false hope inside the citizens of Tranquility. There is no winner but only the idea of their being a winner. The Dispensary does not rely solely on means of production as their only way to generate vitamins so they came up with the idea of this lottery to create a new source of stock."

The world is waiting to hear the response of the Dispensary after the leak of this information. But the real question is, who can be trusted now?

Dangers in Withdrawal:

Mikaela Lowry's Case

By: Rachel Fox

Recent circumstances have proven just how dangerous the withdrawal of Vitamins can be for individuals of Tranquility. Just last week, a citizen of our city, Mikaela Lowry, went off of her medications for a week, as an attempt to experiment their effects. Lowry then, after only three days of withdrawal, published a blog with degrading remarks about The Dispensary. Lowry mentioned that, "The Dispensary has us all brainwashed, we are all at the mercy of the Vitamins, which are in fact just drugs, attempting to place us all under their control". This is complete nonsense, and many, including The Dispensary, believe that Lowry has gone mad, as a side effect of her withdrawal of Vitamins. Lowry also warned that, "We must all stop the usage of Vitamins, you will then understand what I understand, and see the horrible mind-control we are living under."

Since posting this absurd blog, Mikaela Lowry has been taken into medical care under The Dispensary, in order to receive the help she so clearly needs. In these health facilities, Lowry has been monitored to ensure the taking of her Vitamins, and she has begun to stabilize. Her delusional thoughts have begun to dilute, and her thinking has become close to normal. Now, six days after her admittance into hospital treatment, Lowry has returned back to her sane self. Lowry stated that she had, "Felt very depressed off of [her] Vitamins, and [she] had felt very strange and not [herself]". Lowry, now back on Vitamins, feels back to normal, and in a much happier state, as she shared with several doctors overseeing her condition. She is completely puzzled as to how her bizarre theories had come to her head, and she retains no memory of her delusional ideas, besides the limited detail mentioned in her blog. Her blog has since been shut down in order to suppress any memories of her ideas, and to prevent the population of Tranquility from reading further into her lies. Lowry has not yet been released from medical attention, but will be moving into a new home post-release, to ensure her safety, in a facility under The Dispensary.

Seeing the rapid decline in Mikaela Lowry's mental health has provided a clear warning to all citizens of Tranquility. It is incredibly dangerous to stop the consumption of Vitamins for any reason, and side effects will kick in instantly, proven by Lowry's case. The severity of these side effects can vary case by case, but all have the potential to be dire, and have dramatic health effects on the individual. I write this editorial to warn all civilians of Tranquility, and to prevent any more serious issues like Lowry's incident from happening in the near future.

Although typically speaking outward against the government's ways would be a crime, The Dispensary is willing to exempt these actions, due to the fact that Mikaela Lowry's mental state was not stable. Rather than punishing Lowry for her unintentional lies, The Dispensary is pardoning her acts and giving her the help she needs. This can then be used as a warning and counterexample for all citizens of Tranquility, for The Dispensary may not be as forgiving in the event of another action like this. The Dispensary takes full blame for this event, as there was a lack of enforcement to ensure all Vitamins were being distributed and taken in the correct amounts. Following this act, no discrepancies will happen again, as The Dispensary will ensure no one goes off of their Vitamins. The Dispensary is putting all of their efforts forward to make sure no health hazards occur ever again. Mikaela Lowry was only an example of what can go wrong when Vitamins are not used as instructed, and as long as all members of Tranquility follow all of their required doses, no one is at harm of the mental breakdown Lowry went through. The Dispensary places the needs and health of their citizens above all, and will do whatever they can to make sure that no issues like this take place in the city. The lies Lowry spread under her mental breakdown caused panic and harm to many, and as of now, The Dispensary will make sure Tranquility is at peace once and for all.

The New Civic Duty

Bill

by Hunter H. Kolodziej

Decree straight from the Dispensary has officially requested that all citizens of the Utopia put forth their minds, bodies, and spirits towards the betterment of our great nation by reporting to their local dispensary for immediate Vitamin testings. Compliance with this new mandate has promised to boost government pill production by 200%.

Those treasonous scum living in the ground have recently been stirring and word has gotten around. A video file has been released by the Dispensary offering an extremely alarming and distasteful ravaging of organic protein among screams of what can only be interpreted as saying, "Destroy the Dispensary, Destroy the vitamins!"

I can only logically present the solution that our glorious Dispensary already has. Continue trials regardless of the small and constantly diminishing threat of the Dispensary's enemies. Remember citizens, the f4 file issued earlier in March clearly outlines the Dispensary's destruction of over 23 heavily armored Vaxxer strongholds. Now that's a benevolent government that I can most definitely get behind. It is obvious that all of us have nothing to fear but how GREAT that new vitamin test will make us all feel. Get in there and make your Dispensary proud citizens!

I actually went into the field and have found overwhelmingly positive energy from the citizens that have already taken the test. One Avery Milikan, 73 was walking out of his local dispensary when I questioned him. Skipping down the street I could barely get a hold of Mr. Milikan before he had already begun babbling about how he couldn't physically stop smiling... How delightful! Milikan mentioned that his trial "felt like vitamin G98-Bright to the absolute maximum! I absolutely cannot stop smiling and my heart is racing! Whenever I see the TV or a poster about our wonderful dispensary I just uncontrollably go absolutely nuts for doing everything they ask of me".

Another Joe Johnson, 27 exited the his local dispensary in the most delightful blank trance I've ever seen. Must've been just like one of those K54 vitamins if you know what I mean readers! His words were few and drawn out in a sort of slur but I caught his brilliant patriotism and it truly warmed my heart. Johnson just kept saying, "ssstoor-stormmm the sewers, fo-forr the Dispensary". This true patriot truly made my day.

The actual bill has been flying through every necessary official at the Dispensary and is making friends and enemies alike. Do not be concerned though, not a single shout or objection has been uttered in the Tranquility cabinet since the first Bilzerian vitamin started being produced. However, there have been a string of politically opposing messages posted on the popular regulated social media site pills to pills. This string is believed to be constantly reuploaded by a team led by Tranquility cabinet representative Josh Greenman. Unfortunately not I nor any reporter I know has been able to track down Greenman or any of the people reuploading in over a months work of research. Truly odd, but best not to speculate citizens, vitamin A34 will help with that!

In all my work on researching this new bill, I have determined that ultimately there can be no definite downside to this bill passing, not only has it only done great things for the nation in the eyes of the people who have already participated, but this new era of vitamins feels like a frontier that makes me want to explore every path I can take within reason of the Dispensary. After all who knows where this new allowance of citizens into the affairs of the Dispensary will take us, all you should be worrying about is putting vitamins on the table for your loved ones. Currently, there is no better way to do that than waking up, popping that sunshine vitamin and living the humble, vitamin fueled life of a true patriot of the dispensary.

In conclusion, don't be like the lousy no-good vitamin refuser Josh Greenman. We all know how it works out for those that don't take there daily dose of Dispensary orders every morning, and we all know how much we love our families. Who knows... maybe these new pills will make us even happier, or feel even more fulfilled!

This has been Hunter Kolodziej from The Dispensary Daily, as per usual stay happy citizens!
